3. Trading

3.1. You will be a user of WeTrade 's Trading Platform and the specific terms applicable to our platform are set out in Schedule 5. You may enter Transactions for the Account through the Trading Platform, or through other mobile platforms that may become available from time to time, in accordance with WeTrade's standard practices and procedures in effect from time to time and notified to the Client through the Trading Platform and/or in Schedule 5 as applicable. All Transactions entered are at the Client's sole responsibility, risk and expense and subject to the terms and conditions set out in this Agreement as amended from time to time.

3.2. WeTrade does not guarantee that any Transaction or Transactions can be entered into at any given price or at all but shall use its reasonable efforts to effect Transactions. We may in our absolute discretion and without further explanation to you refuse any Transaction and we will do so if we consider in good faith that the Transaction would breach any credit or position limits imposed by WeTrade with respect to the Account or that the resulting Transaction would be in breach of this Agreement.

3.3. The Client hereby acknowledges and agrees that (i) WeTrade will enter into Transactions at its sole discretion and will act as agent with respect to all Transactions; and (ii) WeTrade will not and does not provide any advice, consulting or intermediary services to the Client; (iii) WeTrade may at its sole discretion cover any Transaction, in whole or in part, in any manner it considers appropriate, whether by way of set-off with a Transaction with or for another of its Clients or otherwise; and (iv) nothing in this Agreement or in the relationship between WeTrade and the Client shall or shall be deemed to create any agency or fiduciary relationship between WeTrade and the Client.

Commodity CFDs and forex CFDs have triple swaps on Wednesday Index CFDs, stock CFDs and crypto CFDs have triple swaps on Friday.

3.4. WeTrade normally quotes bid prices (at which the Client can offer to sell) and offer prices (at which the Client can offer to buy) for each Transaction. These prices are determined by WeTrade's Liquidity Provider(s) based on prices quoted in the Interbank Foreign Exchange Market for spot forex Transactions and for CFD Transactions and are based on prices quoted on the markets on which the underlying security, commodity or other instrument is traded. The difference between the lower, bid price and the higher, offer, price is the "spread." For some Transactions spreads may change frequently. Our spreads are based on the spreads received by us from the liquidity provider(s). In any event WeTrade has the right to offer variable spreads at any time at its absolute discretion without notice.

3.5. Prices quoted by WeTrade are set by WeTrade's Liquidity Provider(s) in their absolute discretion. The Client may only offer to enter a Transaction at the price currently quoted by WeTrade. A price may change or cease to be valid at any time after it has been quoted and before the Client's offer to enter a Transaction is accepted. Reference is also made to Clauses 20.1.2 and 20.1.3 below.

3.6. WeTrade uses the Market Execution model. This means that trades executed at market can have spreads that may widen significantly and are affected by actual market conditions, which are beyond WeTrade's control. The prices quoted by us will reflect what is perceived as the market price in an Instrument at that time as opposed to the indicative price you see on the platform at the time of your request for execution. We do not guarantee any maximum or minimum limits to the quoted spreads. In some circumstances, the spreads may not be representative of the examples given in the product information contract specification. At times of high volatility or dependent on the volume size of your trades, your trades will be executed at the next available price subject to slippage. Quotes for Market Execution are filled with minimum or no re-quotes, or in some instances it may not be possible to arrange an order for execution. Stop or Limit orders may also be affected by this. You acknowledge that each Transaction entered must not result in exceeding any credit or other limit placed on your account. Transactions which the Client may offer to place are subject to maximum limits established in WeTrade's absolute discretion from time to time by Notice provided to the Client from time to time via the Trading Platform.

3.7. We shall be entitled to rely on and act in accordance with any instructions, requests and notices (whether in writing and howsoever communicated) which we believe in good faith to emanate from you, an agent or a person duly authorised to instruct us or transact on your behalf.

3.8. It is possible that errors may occur in the prices quoted by us. In such circumstances, without prejudice to any rights either we or you may have, neither you nor us will be bound by any Transaction which purports to have been made (whether or not confirmed by us) at a price which was, or ought reasonably to have been, known to either you or us to be materially incorrect at the time of the Transaction.

3.9. If at any time you are unable for whatever reason, to communicate with us we shall not be responsible for any resultant loss, damage or cost except where your inability to instruct us or communicate with us resulted from our fraud, wilful default or gross negligence.

3.10. It is not possible to rollover expiring CFD Transactions to the next contract month. You acknowledge that it is your responsibility to familiarise yourself with CFD Transactions expiry dates and times, at your risk. If you do not close open positions in respect of an expiring CFD Transaction on or before the last trading day, subject to Contract Specification notification, we will automatically close your open positions as soon as we have established the Settlement Price of the expiring CFD Transaction.

3.11. The Settlement Price of the expiring CFD Transaction, will be

- a) the last traded price at or prior to the close or the applicable official closing quotation or price in the relevant underlying market as calculated and stated by the relevant exchange; and
- b) any Spread that applies to your account when such an expiring CFD Transaction is closed.

3.12. Details of the Spread that is applied when a particular expiring CFD Transaction is closed at the Settlement Price will be determined (a) by your account type; and (b) based on the standard Contract Specifications which are available upon request. You acknowledge that it is your responsibility to familiarise yourself with the Contract Expiry Notification and any Spread that is applied when we close your Transaction.

3.13. In order to maintain the adequate capacity of the WeTrade trading platforms, you agree that you will not enter into any Transactions on our platforms which fall within our definition of arbitrage. WeTrade defines arbitrage as a trading strategy whereby profits are returned by taking advantage of internet latencies, delayed prices caused by technical issues or other conditions, or where both buy and sell orders are entered at, or nearly at the same time. Scalping is considered a serious breach of our Terms and Conditions, and as such, WeTrade may in its absolute discretion close out, replace, reverse any Transactions or close out the Account with immediate effect.

3.14. WeTrade does not guarantee that the placement of a Stop Loss will fully protect against excessive losses being incurred on your account. Stop Losses are intended to reduce risk. Maintaining adequate levels of free margin in your account increases the possibility of keeping trades open.

3.15. We have provided your account with additional investor protections in the form of an added negative balance protection mechanism across all your accounts. Our negative balance protection mitigates trading losses that exceed your account equity during volatile market conditions by automatically resetting negative account balances back to zero. WeTrade reserves the right, at its sole discretion, to look across all your accounts and draw down on trading credits or reduce in strict proportion to losses incurred when resetting negative account balances back to zero, and by offsetting any deficit amounts from positive amounts before processing any withdrawals. It is possible that errors may occur, such as your account balance remaining in deficit. In such circumstances, please contact us at globalsupport@wetradefx.com

3.16. If no price is available to us for CFD product on which we generally quote a CFD price, whether because such CFD product is not quoted on the market or for any other reason, we will not generally quote a price for such CFD. In such event we shall not be liable for any losses arising from any delay or loss caused to you by the price unavailability.

4. Margin Requirement

4.1. As a condition of the entry into each Transaction for the Account, the Client must provide and maintain in the Account sufficient margin as determined by WeTrade in its sole discretion from time to time. It is also the Client's responsibility to ensure that each Transaction in the Account is fully always margined. If at any time the Account is short of margin, WeTrade may give the Client a Notice from time to time (a "Margin Call"). Margin Calls will not normally be made by telephone, but we reserve the right to do so.

4.2. Our margin requirements are set out on our website, and it is your responsibility to ensure that you understand how margin is calculated. During the lifetime of any CFD, we, in our absolute discretion, reserve the right to review and adjust the percentage of funding required or the rates at which interest is calculated on such CFD, with or without notice to you, especially in, but not limited to, volatile market conditions (see also 4.5 below). The margin requirement for an open position may increase or decrease at any time until the open position is closed.

4.3. When the Account is opened, the Client will transfer into the Account a first margin deposit of not less than such minimum amount as may be established by WeTrade from time to time and notified to the Client. Such first deposit may be made by bank transfer or credit card payment, or such other method as may be agreed between WeTrade and the Client. Such first deposit together with subsequent margin deposits made by the Client from time to time and any profits and losses from existing open and closed Transactions, credits and debits from daily rollovers, and charges from commissions, if applicable, shall serve as the guarantee for the performance of Transactions in the Account.

4.4. WeTrade may, in its absolute discretion may at any time change the minimum margin requirement. We reserve the right to change the way in which we calculate Margin Requirements at any time, for example, and without limitation, in response or anticipation of the following:

- i. Economic news;
- ii. Changes in volatility or liquidity of the underlying market, or general financial markets;
- iii. A changing in your dealing patterns;
- iv. Your exposure being concentrated in a particular underlying market;

4.5. WeTrade may make a Margin Call requiring the Client to make further margin deposits in the Account. The Client understands that a margin call may occur even in instances where account positions are hedged, given spreads may widen as set out above. The Client shall if requested by WeTrade, make further margin deposit. If the client fails to provide any margin, deposit or other sum due in respect of any transaction, the client's trades may automatically get stopped out in case there is not enough margin in the account.

4.6. We will not accept any third-party payments made in respect of funding your account. Similarly, we will not pay out any funds from your account to any third party.

4.7. WeTrade may, at its sole discretion, decide to make changes to the charges and commissions applicable to your account from time to time without prior notice to you. In such an event, these changes apply to each Transaction entered or deemed outstanding between WeTrade and the Client.

5. Margin Stop-Out Level

5.1. If the Margin Level for your Account reaches or falls below the Margin Stop-Out Level, this will be classified as an Event of Default under clause 15. In such circumstances the trading platform will automatically start to close your Open Positions at Our Price prevailing at the time when your Open Positions are closed. One or more trades may be automatically closed until the margin level goes back to a level above the margin close out level. It is the client's responsibility to monitor their margin level and to ensure the presence of enough funds in the account.

6. Market Abuse

6.1. You must not carry out any trading activity based on inside information or carry out any trades to create a distorted market or misleading impression in relation to the price of financial instruments.

6.2. You undertake to familiarize yourself and comply with the short sale of securities if you seek to execute a CFD Trade with a short securities position which we may hedge with a short sale of securities you will ensure that your use of the Electronic Service will not result in a breach by us of any short sale of securities.

6.3. We may hedge our liability to you by opening analogous positions with other institutions or in the Underlying Market. The result of our doing this is that when you open or close a Transaction relating to a Financial Instrument with us, your Transactions can, through our hedging, exert a distorting influence on the Underlying Market for that Instrument, in addition to the impact that it may have on our own prices. This creates a possibility of market abuse, and the function of this Term is to prevent such abuse.

6.4. To comply with our legal obligations, we may in our absolute discretion, and without being under any obligation to inform you of our reason for doing so, close any Trades that you may have open and may, if we so elect, treat all Trades closed under this clause 5 as void.

6.5. We will treat all your Transactions that meet the circumstances set out in this Term as void if they are Transactions under which you have secured a profit, unless and until you produce evidence that satisfies us that you have not, in fact, committed the breach of warranty and/or misrepresentation the suspicion of which was the ground for us taking action under this Term. For the avoidance of doubt, if you do not produce such evidence within the period of three months from the date on which action is taken by us under this Term, all such Transactions will be finally null and void as between you and us; or 6.6. You acknowledge that it would be improper for you to deal in the Underlying Market if the sole purpose of such a transaction was to impact on our bid or offer prices, and you agree not to conduct any such transactions.

6.7. You will not use any device, hardware, software, algorithm, strategy, collusion or deception, the use of which is intended, whether directly or indirectly, to cause or influence us to provide our Platform or accept any trade in a way in which or on terms on which we would not otherwise do so.

7. Improper Behaviour

7.1. We do not permit the use of the platform for unfair arbitrage activity, or otherwise taking advantage of internet delays, using any other manipulative or abusive behaviour which could adversely impact on fair and orderly trading.

7.2. You will not take any action that could create a false impression of the demand for or value of a Product or send orders which you have reason to believe are in breach with this Agreement.

8. Market Disruption

8.1. For the purposes of this Agreement, a "Disruption Event" is the occurrence of any of the following circumstances or events:

8.1.1. The Underlying Market related to the Market you are trading in or the Exchange on which the Underlying Market trades, whether directly or indirectly (example: on a future or option on such Underlying Market), is the subject of a takeover offer or a merger offer; or the issuer of such Underlying Market or operator of Exchange has entered into or is the subject of insolvency or liquidation proceedings (or any Act of Insolvency has occurred in relation to such issuer or operator); or

8.1.2. Any event which disrupts the trading of the underlying market or trading on the Exchange including the suspension of or limitation of trading by reason of movements in price exceeding limits permitted by the relevant Exchange, or any other intervention, or early closure of the Exchange or otherwise, and/or any other event causing market disruption, and which is a material disruption.

8.2. If we in our sole and absolute discretion determine that a Disruption Event has occurred on any day on which a market is scheduled to be open for its regular trading session, then such day shall be a "Disrupted Day".

9. Withdrawal request and Closing of the Account by the Client

9.1. The Client may request WeTrade to permit withdrawal from the Account. In calculating the amount available for withdrawal, WeTrade will consider the balance in the account where the withdrawal is requested and the balance/s in other account / accounts maintained by the client minus trade credits (provided by WeTrade for 'trading only') in all accounts. All withdrawal requests can be made in client's portal or in a form acceptable to us.

9.2. Without prejudice to any rights of WeTrade under this Agreement, WeTrade shall transfer such excess amounts (if any, and as determined by WeTrade in its sole discretion), less any applicable Bank or other transfer fees, according to the Client's instructions within seven (7) Business Days from the date of receipt of the applicable written instruction. For the avoidance of doubt any such transfer by WeTrade is subject to:

- i) to anti-money laundering, tax authorities' requirements for deduction at source and exchange control foreign currency transfer restrictions, and
- ii) the Client providing full identification documentation as required by WeTrade.

9.3. If the Client wishes to withdraw excess funds (calculated as explained in 9.1 above from the Account) and close the Account, the Client shall do so by notifying WeTrade. Following the transfer (if any) made by WeTrade pursuant to such request, WeTrade shall close the Account in accordance with Clause 17.

10. Inactive and Dormant Accounts

10.1. An account shall be considered as Inactive in the absence of any activity for a period of ninety (90) consecutive calendar days. Any Inactive Account, holding zero (0) balance / equity, shall be treated as dormant accounts. The Company reserves the right to close your account if classified as dormant within WeTrade.

10.2. For the re-activation of Inactive and dormant accounts, you must inform us accordingly in writing. We reserve the right to request updated identification document and information prior proceeding accordingly.

11. Charges & Commissions

11.1. Charges and commissions applicable to your account will be provided to you in good faith, agreed with you before entering any transaction (subject to clause 4.8 above) and will be shown on the statement sent to you. In such an event, the Commissions will be charged to the Account. Commissions and charges may be changed from time to time. Your approval may not be always sought. If any charges are not expressed in money terms (but for example as a spread), the Client should ask for a written explanation, including appropriate examples, to establish what such charges are likely to mean in specific money terms.

11.2. Spreads: Prices quoted to you by WeTrade will include a spread, mark-up, or mark-down when compared to prices that WeTrade may receive or expect to receive if it were to cover your transactions with, for example, a trade in the forex interbank market. The spread is dynamic and may factor in the liquidity in the external markets and the competitor pricing. Our spreads are set at our absolute discretion, and any changes are effective immediately. Further details regarding the spreads applicable for each Financial Instrument are specified on our website.

11.3. Inactivity Fee: Inactive Accounts, as defined above under clause 10.1 of this Agreement, will be charged an administrative fee of US $10.00 or the equivalent value in your account base currency every month, until account activity resumes. For reimbursement of inactivity fees, please refer to our Terms of Business.

11.4. Currency conversion rates: Investing in financial instruments with an underlying asset listed in a currency other than your base currency entails a currency risk as the financial instrument is settled in a currency other than your base currency and hence the value of your return may be affected by its conversion into the base currency. The currency conversion rates used are determined by WeTrade in its sole discretion based on the then prevailing exchange rates.

11.5. Additional Costs:

- You should be aware of the possibility that other taxed or costs may exist that are not paid through or imposed by the Company. It is your sole responsibility to bear these additional costs.
- You should be aware that a 2% fee may be applied to clients who make withdrawals without engaging in trading activities.

12. Inducements

12.1. When providing a service to a Client, the Company may pay and/or receive fees/commissions or other non-monetary benefits to/from third parties as far as permissible provided that these benefits are designed to enhance the quality of the offered service to the Client and not impair compliance with Company's duty to act in the best interest of the Client or their duty under the Conflicts of Interest Policy.

12.2. The Client is hereby informed that in the event where the Client has been introduced to the Company by a Partner (Introducer and/or Affiliate) and/or of Company's any third party, the Company may pay a fee and/or commission to its Partners and/or the Partner directly, for services rendered calculated on the basis of the volume traded and/or First Deposit and/or Revenue Share by the Client and/or otherwise and/or on the basis of the agreement concluded between the two parties. 14. Indemnification

14.1. Neither WeTrade nor any of its affiliates, officers, directors, managers, employees or agents shall be liable for any loss, damage or debt to the Client arising directly or indirectly out of or in connection with this Agreement or any Transaction, except in the event of fraud, gross negligence or wilful misconduct on the part of WeTrade, its affiliates, officers, directors, managers, employees or agents.

14.2. The Client agrees to indemnify and hold WeTrade, and WeTrade's affiliates, officers, directors, managers, employees, agents, successors and assigns ("Indemnified Persons"), harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses, damages, costs and expenses (including reasonable attorney's fees) incurred by the Indemnified Persons and each of them arising out of the Client's failure to comply with any and all of its obligations set forth in this Agreement and/or WeTrade's enforcement against the Client of any and all of its rights under this Agreement.

14.3. 14.4. 15.3. Without prejudice to the generality of Clause 15.2, WeTrade may in its absolute discretion close out, replace or reverse any Transaction or close out the Account as if an Event of Default other than a Bankruptcy Default had occurred if it considers that any Transaction entered into for the Account was based on material non-public information, manipulation of market information or data, or any behaviour which in the good faith opinion of WeTrade involved market abuse or other improper conduct.

16. Termination on Default

16.1. Termination on Notice

- (c) WeTrade shall treat each cost or loss to WeTrade, determined as above, as a positive amount and each gain by WeTrade, so determined, as a negative amount and aggregate all such amounts to produce a single, net positive or negative amount, denominated in the Base Currency (the "Liquidation Amount").

16.4. Payer

If the Liquidation Amount determined pursuant to Clause 16.3 is a positive amount, the Client shall pay it to WeTrade and if it is a negative amount, WeTrade shall pay it to the Client. WeTrade shall notify the Client of the Liquidation Amount, and by whom it is payable, immediately after the calculation of such amount.

16.5. Other Transactions

Where termination and liquidation occur in accordance with Clause 16.3, WeTrade shall also be entitled, at its discretion, to terminate and liquidate, in accordance with the provisions of Clause 16.3, any other Transactions entered between WeTrade and the Client which are then outstanding.

Any Liquidation Amount not paid on the due date shall be treated as an unpaid amount and bear interest, at the rate as reasonably determined by WeTrade to be the cost of funding such overdue amount. Interest will accrue daily and will be due and payable by the Client as a separate debt.

16.7. Base Currency

For the purposes of any calculation hereunder, WeTrade may convert amounts denominated in any other Currency into the Base Currency at such rate prevailing at the time of the calculation as WeTrade shall reasonably select.

16.8. Payments

Unless a Liquidation Date has occurred or has been effectively set, WeTrade shall not be obliged to make any payment or delivery scheduled to be made by WeTrade under any Transaction for as long as an Event of Default with respect to the Client has occurred and is continuing.

17. Termination on Notice

17.1. Either party may terminate this Agreement (and the relationship between WeTrade and the Client) by giving written notice of termination with immediate effect.

17.2. Where either you or we provide notice to close your Account and/or end this Agreement under this clause 17, we reserve the right to refuse to allow you to enter any further Trades or Orders which may lead to you holding further Open Positions.

17.3. In its absolute discretion WeTrade may terminate this Agreement at any time in accordance with Clause 15.2 or Clause 16 as applicable if the Client fails to observe or perform any provision of this Agreement or in the event of the Client's insolvency or upon the occurrence of any other Event of Default.

17.4. Upon terminating this Agreement, all open positions are closed, all orders are cancelled and all amounts payable by the Client to WeTrade will become immediately due and payable including (but without limitation):

- (a) all outstanding fees and charges; and
- (b) any losses and expenses realised in closing out any Transactions or settling or concluding outstanding obligations incurred by WeTrade including without limitation those incurred in exercising its powers under Clause 15.2 and/or Clause 16.

17.5. Termination shall not affect any outstanding rights and obligations between WeTrade and the Client, and Transactions shall continue to be governed by this Agreement and any particular clauses agreed between WeTrade and the Client in relation to such Transactions until all obligations under this Agreement and all Transactions have been fully performed.

17.6. If neither party does not exercise their right of cancellation, the Agreement will continue in effect until either you or we terminate the Agreement by either of us giving notice in accordance with clause 17, or by our exercising any of our other rights to terminate under this Agreement. There is no minimum or fixed duration of the Agreement.

18. Events of Force Majeure

18.1. We shall not be liable to you for any partial or non- performance of our obligations hereunder by reason of any cause beyond our reasonable control, such as technological or other system failures or in the case of Force Majeure Event, as defined below under Clause 18.2, provided that in such cases we shall, to the extent reasonably possible, act in line with our obligations to act for the best interest of our clients and treat you fairly. Following the occurrence of a Force Majeure Event, we will take reasonable steps to inform you.

18.2. Force Majeure Event means any even or circumstances outside our control, including but not limited to the following:

- b) Where any bank or other permitted third party holds money under this clause (a) we will not be liable for the acts or omissions of, or failure or insolvency or any analogous event affecting, such entity; and (b) in the event of the insolvency or other analogous proceeding in relation to such entity, we may have only an unsecured claim against such entity on behalf of you and our other clients, and you may be exposed to the risk that the money recovered by us from such entity is insufficient to satisfy the claims of you and all other clients with claims in respect of the relevant account.
- c) We will not pay interest to you on any money held on your behalf.

20. Order Execution

20.1.1. It is WeTrade's sole discretion to decide which types of Financial Instruments to make available and to publish to its platforms the prices at which these can be traded by its clients.

20.1.2. Transactions may only be executed during the time when the relevant Exchange where the Instrument is traded is open for business. WeTrade's Trading Hours are displayed on our website under the Product Specifications Section for each Instrument which may or may not be the same as the Trading Hours of the relevant Exchange. It is your responsibility to ensure you are aware of which Instrument may be affected.

20.1.8. The prices shown on the Trading Platform and at which clients can enter Transactions are the prices derived from the sources referred to in Clause 20.1.7. These prices will not be identical to those quoted by or available from any individual information provider or other data source.

20.1.9. Liquidity can affect order execution. When clients place a high volume of orders, order imbalances and backlogs can occur, requiring more time to execute orders. This is because of delays caused by the number and size of orders processed, the speed at which current quotations or last-sale information is provided, and system capacity constraints.

20.1.10. We will accept a trade only based on a current price. You may not be able to enter trades at our price where our price is described as "indication only" or "indicative" or "invalid" (or words or messages to the same effect).

SCHEDULE 1

Risk Warning Notice

Transactions in Spot Foreign Exchange ("spot forex") and Contracts for Difference ("CFDs")

This risk warning notice (the "Risk Warning Notice") cannot and does not disclose all of the risks of Transactions in CFDs and in spot forex. The purpose of this Risk Warning Notice is to describe the major risks of trading spot forex and CFDs. The specific risks associated with Trading in spot forex and CFDs are outlined within the Company's Risk Disclosure Statement available on our website.

General

You should not engage in spot forex Transactions or CFDs unless you understand the basic aspects of such trading and their risks – for example, how positions are opened and closed, how profits and losses are made and the extent of your exposure to risk and loss.

All Forex and CFD trading involve significant risk to your capital. These products may not be suitable for everyone. You should ensure you understand all of the risks and seek independent advice if necessary. Therefore, trading in these Financial Instruments is appropriate only for persons who (a) understand and are willing to assume the economic, legal and other risks involved in such transactions, and (b) are financially able to withstand losses significantly in excess of their initial margin funds and any additional funds transferred to WeTrade to maintain their positions. Your potential losses, which depend on movements in the price of the underlying instrument, can exceed any deposit, margin or other amount you have paid to WeTrade. The provision of a negative balance protection to you is at the company's discretion.

You should be satisfied that spot forex and CFD trading is suitable for you in the light of your financial circumstances and attitude to risk. If you are in any doubt as to whether spot forex and/or CFD trading is suitable for you, please seek independent advice from a financial services professional. WeTrade does not provide such advice.

When you engage in spot forex or CFD trading with WeTrade you are placing an order in relation to movements of prices set by WeTrade as per our Orders Execution Policy. Prices quoted to you by WeTrade will include a spread, mark-up, or mark-down when compared to prices that WeTrade may receive or expect to receive if it were to cover your transactions with, for example, a trade in the forex interbank market. Although spreads are common in the spot forex markets and in markets for certain of the instruments underlying other CFDs you may trade for the Account, you should be aware that the total impact of spreads may be significant in relation to the size of the margin you post and may make it more difficult for you to realise a profit from your trading. You should carefully consider the effect spreads, mark-ups, or mark-downs on your ability to profit from trading.

The “gearing” or “leverage” available in CFD and spot forex Transactions trading (i.e. the funds WeTrade requires you to provide when a position is opened compared to the notional size of trade you can enter) means that a small margin deposit can lead to large losses as well as gains. It also means that a relatively small movement can lead to a proportionately much larger movement in the size of any loss or profit which can work against you as well as for you.

You may lose all amounts you deposit with WeTrade as Margin. The placing of certain orders (e.g. “stop-loss” or “limit” orders) that are intended to limit losses to certain amounts may not always be effective because market conditions or technological limitations may make it impossible to execute such orders. Please also note that for all orders (including Stop Loss Orders) you may sustain the loss (which your order is intended to limit) in a short period of time.

You have to pay to WeTrade all losses you sustain as well as all other amounts payable under the Client Agreement such as interest. If you decide to engage in CFD or spot forex trading, you must accept this degree of risk.

The potential for profit or loss from Transactions on foreign markets or in foreign currency denominated Transactions are affected by fluctuations in foreign exchange rates. Transactions involving foreign currencies, including spot forex and foreign currency denominated CFDs, involves risks not present when dealing with investments denominated entirely in your domestic currency. Such enhanced risks include (but are not limited to) the risks of political or economic policy changes in a foreign nation, which may substantially and permanently alter the conditions, terms, marketability or price of a foreign currency. The profit or loss in transactions in foreign currency-denominated contracts (whether they are traded in your own or another jurisdiction) will also be affected by fluctuations in currency rates where there is a need to convert from the currency denomination of the contract to another currency.

WeTrade acts as agent to all spot forex Transactions and CFD Transactions executed by you with WeTrade. We are not required to continue to offer markets in any instrument and may refuse to accept any order in our absolute discretion. The markets WeTrade offers (and its prices) are derived from underlying prices quoted in the relevant markets. WeTrade has no control over movements in the underlying prices, which may be volatile and unpredictable. Those movements will affect WeTrade's prices, whether or not you can open and close a position and the price at which you can do so. During periods of market volatility, it may be difficult or impossible for you to liquidate an existing position, to assess the value of open positions, to determine a fair price or to assess the exposure to risk. These are among the reasons why Transactions in CFDs and spot forex Transactions involve increased risks. CFD and spot forex trading with WeTrade is not conducted on a regulated exchange, and there is no clearing house or other central counterparty which guarantees our payment obligations to you under contracts that you enter. Consequently, engaging in CFDs or spot forex trading may expose you to substantially greater risks than other instruments which are so traded. You can only look to WeTrade for performance on all CFDs and/or spot forex Transactions you enter with us and for return of any margin. The insolvency or default of WeTrade could cause you to lose the value of all positions carried in your Account and could cause you to suffer additional losses from open positions.

As a CFD and spot forex market maker WeTrade may have access to information that is not available to you, may have acquired trading positions at prices that are not available to you, and may have interests different from your interests. WETRADE does not undertake any obligation to provide you with market or other information we possess, nor to alter or refrain from our own trading.

Risk Disclaimer

You should note that you may be exposing yourself to risks that fall outside your knowledge and experience and/or which you may not have the knowledge or experience properly to assess and/or control by way of mitigating their consequences for you. Our products are based on highly leveraged margin trading; as with any derivative instrument, such contracts carry a very high degree of risk and trading such instruments may expose the investor to substantial losses as well as gains. The price of the products offered by WeTrade may go down as well as up, and under certain circumstances an investor may sustain a total loss of their investment. An investor should make an appraisal of the risks involved in investing in these products and should consult their own legal, financial, tax, accounting and other professional advisors, to ensure that any decision made is suitable with regards to that investor's circumstances and financial position.

Contracts for Difference ('CFDs') are complex financial products that are traded on margin. Trading CFDs carries a high degree of risk. It is possible to lose all your capital. These products may not be suitable for everyone, and you should ensure that you understand the risks involved. Seek independent expert advice if necessary. Please think carefully whether such trading suits you, taking into consideration all the relevant circumstances as well as your personal resources. Margined trades can lead to a total loss of the capital allocated for trading. We do not recommend clients posting their entire account balance to meet margin requirements. Clients can minimise their level of exposure by requesting a change in leverage limit. However, lowering the leverage limit will subject client accounts to stricter margin requirements. Speculate only with funds that you can afford to lose.

You should also be aware of the risks associated with using an internet or mobile based system for trading Forex/CFDs, including but not limited to the failure of Hardware, Software and internet connection.

“Underlying Instrument” means the index, commodity, currency, equity or other instrument, asset or factor whose price or value provides the basis for us or any third party to determine its price or the executable price for a Market or product.

SCHEDULE 4

Terms applicable to the Platform(s)

WeTrade Download Platform(s)

1. No automatic stop orders are placed for you. You can place stop orders, but it is important that you understand that you do so at your own risk and that they are not guaranteed by us to be executed. For example, if the market moves through a stop loss price level without trading at it, the stop loss order will not be executed at the stop loss price but will be triggered and executed at the first available market price.
2. You can hold simultaneous long and short open positions in the same instrument.
3. When you select the amount, you wish to trade, you cannot see the contract size you will trade. You can only see the volume expressed in our standard lots, or fractions of our standard lots. For example: you can choose to trade 1 lot, or 0.50 lot or 0.02 lot, etc.

4. If your Account balance is well below the margin requirement, established by us in accordance with Clause 4.1 at a level established by us and notified to you (the "Close Out Level") positions will be automatically closed-out by WeTrade using the Platform to bring the Account above the Close Out Level. Unless otherwise specified, the Default "Close Out Level" is when the account equity drops below 20% of the margin requirement of the open positions. We will first close the position showing the biggest loss. If the Account equity is still below the Close Out Level after that, the Download Platform will close out the position showing the next biggest loss. This will continue until the equity to margin requirement ratio goes above the Close Out Level. If you have multiple positions in many products, it is possible that a position protected by a hedge will be closed first, if the loss on that position is largest. This may cause further liquidations.
5. Unrealised profits will be counted within the amount required under Clause 4.1 to open new positions.
6. "Hedging" is permitted in the Account if you are a platform client – that you may carry in the Account both 'long' and 'short' positions on the same security/instrument.

Protecting your trading platform(s) login credentials:

As a part of our security and confidentiality procedures we would like to reiterate the following guidelines:

- Your user ID and Password is unique and confidential, communicated only to you via the email you have registered with us at the time of opening your account.
- You should not disclose this secure log in information to any other person and must take all possible care to prevent the discovery of your password by any third party.
- You will be fully liable for all transactions made in your account; with or without your knowledge using your online credentials.
- In case of loss or theft of the password or any other log in information, you must notify WeTrade immediately.
- Failing to comply with timely notification or late reporting of the theft or loss of log in information shall result in you being accountable for all transactions executed from your account.
- You are strongly advised to change your password periodically and not to use predictable passwords such as your name or birthdays.

Terms applicable to Stop and Limit Orders

The following terms apply to all Stop and Limit Orders:

We may in our absolute discretion accept an instruction (a "Stop or Limit Order") from you to open or close any Transaction when our quote in respect of the relevant instrument reaches or goes beyond a level specified by you. You may specify that your instruction is to apply for a limited duration or for an indefinite period (a "Good Till Cancelled" or "GTC" Order). If we accept a Stop or Limit Order then, when the level of our current quote reaches or goes beyond the level of your Stop or Limit Order, your order will be executed automatically at the level of your Stop or Limit Order subject to the following: You acknowledge that where the underlying market is moving rapidly our quote may have gone beyond the level of your Stop or Limit Order by the time your order is executed and in particular you acknowledge that if the relevant underlying market opens with a gap from the previous closing price such that our quote has moved beyond your Stop or Limit Order price your order will be filled at WeTrade's quoted price derived from the market opening price or the earliest price reasonably available.

You may with our prior consent (and we will not unreasonably withhold our consent) cancel or amend the level of your Stop or Limit Order at any time before our quote reaches or goes beyond the relevant level. However, once the level has been reached you may not cancel or amend the level of your order. If you enter into any Transaction and place a Stop or Limit Order which, when executed, would be capable of closing or partly closing such Transaction and you subsequently instruct us to close that Transaction, or any part of it prior to the level of the Stop or Limit Order being reached, it is your responsibility to cancel the Stop or Limit Order if you do not want the order to remain valid.

The following conditions apply to all Stop or Limit Orders:

- a) we will not accept a Stop or Limit Order unless when you instruct us to close part but not all of a Transaction, both the part of the Transaction which you instruct us to close and the part which would remain open if we carried out your closing instruction are equal to or greater than any minimum Transaction size in effect from time to time;
- b) when you instruct us to open a Transaction you must not have committed an Event of Default;
- c) if the Internet session in which you instruct us to open or close the Transaction is terminated as a result of circumstances beyond our reasonable control before we have confirmed that your instruction has been executed by us the Stop or Limit Order shall not take effect;
- d) any Transaction opened by you must be within any credit or position limit in effect with respect to the Account or any Transactions; and
- e) the Stop or Limit Order instruction must be given to us during normal trading hours for the investment in respect of which you instruct us to open or close the Transaction. Details of the relevant trading hours are available on the website.

Terms applicable to all accounts which have CFD's on listed equity securities as the underlying instrument.

The following terms apply to all Transactions involving listed equity securities, on both CFD account types and Investing account types. The CFD's we offer on a limited number of listed equity securities give you exposure to changes in the prices of the underlying securities but are CFD's and therefore give you no rights to delivery of any underlying securities.

A. Dividends

A dividend adjustment is applicable if an ex-dividend date occurs for an underlying security with respect to which you have an open CFD. If you have any open long positions, a dividend adjustment will be credited to the Account subject to a service charge of 10% (ten per cent). The service charge is not applicable to Investing account types.

If you have an open short position, not applicable to Investing account types, the dividend adjustment will be debited in full from the Account. The dividend adjustment will be made gross, with no adjustment for tax. The responsibility for any tax payable with respect to any such payment is yours.

Any dividend adjustment will be credited/debited to your account on the day the dividend is paid.

B. Corporate Events

We will process only the following corporate actions:

- a) Dividends
- b) Stock splits (only if possible)

If the stock underlying an open position in CFD is subject to any other corporate action (for example; reclassification, subdivision, consolidation, free distribution, scrip or rights issue or similar event) we may upon providing notice to you, close out any such open CFD positions or make other appropriate adjustments at our absolute discretion.

In addition, where a takeover offer is made or a change in the composition of the offering of the CFD is required in respect of a company in whose shares you hold an open CFD we may upon Notice to you, close out any such open CFD positions. The price at which we close out any such position will be at such price as we establish in good faith in our absolute discretion.

Where a company for whose shares you hold an open CFD becomes subject to an insolvency or analogous event or trading in its shares is suspended for any reason, we will endeavour to reach agreement with you on a closing date and a closing price for the relevant Transaction.

In the absence of any such agreement, then that Transaction shall remain open until such time as the shares of the company in question resume trading or the company becomes insolvent or is otherwise dissolved. In each such case, in the absence of agreement between us we shall establish the closing level date and price for any open Transaction acting in good faith.

C. Quoting Prices

In the event that no price is available to us for any security on which we generally quote a CFD price, whether because such security is not quoted on the market on which it is listed or for any other reason, we will not generally quote a price for a CFD on such security. In such event we shall not be liable for any losses arising from any delay or loss caused to you by the price unavailability.

D. Terminology

All references to market terms such as 'dividends', 'take-overs', 'mergers', and other such terms mentioned in this Schedule are intended to be understood as those terms are generally used in financial markets. If any dispute arises our determination of the correct interpretation of such terms in a manner which shall be fair, conclusive and binding.
